SEARCHING FOR POWER IN CYBER SPACE

Where, Oh Where, Has My Pokemon Gone? BY JUNE GUMZ

This summer was a bit different from any I have ever experienced and there have been quite a few. Having a 12 year old grandson who possesses an up-to-date phone with all the functions and apps means that POKEMON GO was part of our lives.

I was commissioned to drive "slowly" on major highways or to stop suddenly on side streets so he could jump out and catch the elusive cyber beings. We visited parks where it was reported that Pokemons were abundant. Hundreds of people got the message about Laurelhurst Park. Kids of all ages were there looking down at their phones, occasionally bumping into each other. One older couple was taking it easy on beach chairs waiting for the cute little creatures to come to them.

Besides driving my grandson to different venues, I loaned him my bike because he had heard that was the very best way to fill his quota of good ones. A special Pokemon showed up on his phone in the little park behind my house and he had to have it. Although barefoot at the time he climbed my fence, leaped into the park and ran all over in search of the target. It didn't materialize and he hurt his feet when landing back in my yard. It didn't deter him; he took my bike out for more chances to add to his haul.

His happiest day of the summer came when his family went white water rafting for the first time. It was a great adventure AND he caught the "most powerful Pokemon of all" in the wilderness. Who could ask for more?

Faith for adults can be as elusive as animated beings are to the younger set. I can remember as a child, and teenager, wanting to belong to the 'right' church, because if there was an afterlife, I wanted to be accepted as one of the righteous. To achieve my goal, I tried many denominations and for a 14 year period I was even an agnostic. Pokemons weren't on the drawing board when I was a child, but if they had been, you can believe I would have been out there attracting the most powerful ones I could find. Church shopping was my version of Pokemon Go. Fortunately, I was attracted to Portland's Center for Spiritual Living decades ago and no longer have the desire to keep up the search. I use my phone for phone calls.

MESSAGE BY REV. LARRY KING COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

As a smaller spiritual center, it can be difficult to do our part in the community. Often we do not have people directly able or interested in running a homeless shelter or providing coaching for disadvantaged youth.

Nonetheless, it is critical that we do support such efforts. We are a part of the larger community and, more importantly, it reflects our core values as an organization.

Where possible, we directly support some of our community partnerships. This month, for instance, we'll participate with Cascade AIDS project in the AIDS Walk. We'll have a team of walkers on hand to lend our visible support as well as raising money to provide care and HIV education to affected people in Oregon and SW Washington.

Later this month we'll partner with the North/Northeast Business Association for the Martin Luther King "Dream Walk and Run." This event raises money to help young adults (ages 16-26) start out in first-time businesses as part of the NNEBA Youth Entrepreneurial Internship Program.

Sometimes it's more difficult for us to participate directly, but every month we make a charitable donation to partners who directly provide services in the community. This last year we've made donations to:

- Albina Headstart Program – providing a "headstart" for neighborhood children
- Bradley Angle House – a neighborhood shelter for domestic violence
- Central City Concern – a clearinghouse for finding local jobs and housing
- Coffee Creek Prison Ministry – our partnership with New Thought Center for Spiritual Living provides weekly services at Coffee Creek Women's Prison.
- Doernbecher's Children's Hospital – providing medical care for children
- Dress For Success, Oregon – helping women to enter or re-enter the workforce
- Helensview High School – a thriving NE alternative high-school for at-risk youth
- New Avenues for Youth – providing housing and training for homeless youth

New Avenues for Youth takes a complete approach to addressing youth homelessness and its root causes, delivering support and resources that enable foster, at-risk, and homeless youth aged 14-24 to overcome their barriers and realize their potential.

Albina Head Start and Early Head Start comprehensively serve children and families providing child growth and development services and education to strengthen and enhance the abilities of children and their families to successfully function in our national and international environment.

- The Oregon Food Bank – providing state-wide emergency food services
- Outside In – assistance, especially for Portland’s homeless youth
- Sisters of the Road – food and counseling for Portland’s homeless
- Transition Projects – providing services and housing to the homeless

“Your contribution to Oregon Food Bank gave help, hope and 75 meals to our vulnerable neighbors, families and children who are facing hunger. We’re building healthy, hunger-free communities—leading nutrition and garden education programs that champion self-reliance, and working with lawmakers and clinicians to invest in programs that fight hunger at its root causes. You made a difference and together we can eliminate hunger.”

I just wanted to catch you up on the many ways that Portland Center for Spiritual Living contributes to both the spiritual and physical welfare of our neighborhood. We continue to make quite a difference in the world through what we do directly (our Spiritual “Mission”) and through our many community partners.

Thank you for your support of Portland Center for Spiritual Living and our work in the larger community!

All my love,
Larry

“Sisters of the Road is a vital resource for Portlanders experiencing poverty and houselessness. Thank you for filling the plates and hearts of our community!”

CENTER HAPPENINGS

Kathy Batten and Kathryn Richer received their practitioner stoles in a celebration witnessed by the congregation. The practitioners honored them with a candlelight procession. It was the culmination of years of study, internship and testing to obtain their licenses. We are delighted to include them in the prayer ministry of the Portland Center for Spiritual Living.

Danah and Jim Buix were named Volunteers of the Month for July. Thank you for your service!

MUSIC IS SPIRIT IN ACTION BY REV. LARRY KING

LINDA ROSSI, Music Director

One of the things that most people notice about the Portland Center for Spiritual Living is the amazing music that we feature every Sunday. Our Music Director, Linda Rossi, makes sure that we have high-quality, entertaining and inspirational music every week and at many of our special occasions.

Linda has been with PCSL through three physical moves and 13 years of directing our music program. She has been the moving force behind our gospel chorus, our annual talent show and has scheduled countless musical guest artists for us.

With a life-long love of music, Linda was inspired by her father's beautiful voice and took piano lessons from her "Uncle Vince," a long-time performer at Disneyland's Golden Horseshoe Saloon. With professional vocal coaching and operatic study with Primo Lino Puccinelli, Linda has been singing professionally since 1980, touring with bands and singing in many local venues.

Sometime in 2003, Rev. Lynn Johnson talked her into singing at our Center when it was located on NE Shaver Street in Parkrose. She became an indispensable part of our music program and our Music Director.

After returning from her annual sabbatical in August, she let the board of directors know that September will be her last month serving as Music Director at PCSL.

"After much soul-searching [I] have decided that it is time for me to move in new directions. It is time for me for Opening and Balancing. It has been a wonderful time."

Help us celebrate Linda's 13 years as music director. Her last regular Sunday at the Center will be on September 25th. We'll have a send-off reception after the second service.

Linda has promised that she'll be back as a featured artist in the months to come. We won't have to wait very long to hear her wonderful voice again!

BOARD UPDATE BY ANN FOREST BURNS, PCSL BOARD VICE PRESIDENT

ATTRACTING OUR NEW HOME

PCSL has taken an exciting step in finding a new church home: We have selected real estate agents Sara Daley and Cliff Finnell of the Kidder Mathews agency to represent us in finding a new home and selling our current property.

The Board acted at its August meeting on the recommendation of the Our Center Attraction Committee. The committee, which chose its name to reflect its true purpose, is chaired by Board Vice President Ann Forest Burns. Members are Sara Frandsen, June Gumz, Steven Hearn, Rev. Larry King, Matthew Lashua, Debbie Pettijohn and Kathryn Richer.

The process of choosing our real estate agent began with calls to several agencies with expertise in commercial real estate transactions. Although buying a church is a hybrid of both commercial and non-commercial practice, we expect to sell our current property into the commercial market. We are fortunate that this section of Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. is an attractive business location. Using a commercial real estate agent assures that we will know the current market value of our property and that its availability will be advertised to buyers eager to pay that price. We expect to realize a substantial increase in value since the building was initially purchased. That will allow us to reinvest in our new center, keeping our future mortgage payment close to what we are paying now.

After a number of telephone interviews and visits by interested agents to the Center, the committee requested written proposals from four agencies. Agents were also given in-person interviews. We were truly impressed by the credentials and interest in us of these highly professional people. We are delighted to begin working with Sara and Cliff.

Sara Daley is an associate vice president with Kidder Mathews. She has been practicing brokerage for eleven years and specializes in the leasing and sales of urban retail and specialty properties. The committee was impressed with the work that she has done in the Mississippi / Alberta Avenue area and her success with complex projects. She is an enthusiastic and empathetic presence.

Cliff Finnell is a Kidder Mathews First Vice President and Partner. He has worked in commercial real estate since 1996. The committee was impressed with his steady approach and his ideas about how to find properties that are not currently on the market which would suit our needs. Our initial contact with him came from another church he is representing.

Sara and Cliff plan to first determine the value of our current property and anything that needs to be done to assure its marketability. They do not plan to put our property on the market until we have located our new home and figured out what will be involved in getting it ready for us.

Sara and Cliff are anxious to meet with the congregation to talk about our project. We know you will enjoy getting to know them.
